

School One on Park Avenue in Scotch Plains, a striking example of the architecture of Stanford White, was tragically destroyed by fire in 1984. The building was constructed in the 1890's at a cost of $18,000.