

1946 School No.1

This is my sixth grade class. This was the year that Scotch Plains and Fanwood merged the elementary schools. The kids from Scotch Plains had to make quite an adjustment since most of our new classmates came from homes where their parents were college educated.

I am the first one in the third row.

My best memories from this class center around Mrs. Reibis. She was a wonderful teacher. I remember that when we stayed after school for an activity, she would drive some of us home in her old car. We sat in the rumble seat.
