

1946 Clementina and Felix

This picture of my mother and father was taken during the summer of 1946. The war was over and my father had purchased a new car, a 1946 DeSoto. It really looked like an elephant--big and ugly. We were one of the few families in the neighborhood to own a car. On Sunday afternoons, my father would take us for rides around the Jersey countryside.