

Montazzoli, Italy

1987

This captivating letter from my daughter Terry was written when she and a friend visited Montazzoli. She describes in detail the family relatives and the important role her grandfather played in this small village.