

Fanwood appears for the first time in the 1894 New Business Atlas Map of New Jersey, originally printed by Rand-McNally and Companies in the Indexed Atlas of the World. The town name is noted twice: once to locate the town and once for the stop on the Central Railroad line. Scotch Plains is indicated on the map only once.