

The Scotch Plains Rescue Squad building, c. 1950. Previously the home of the Scotch Plains Bucket and Engine Company, the building still stands today (with a newer masonry facade) and is still the home of the Scotch Plains Rescue Squad.

The Scotch Plains Municipal Building, c. 1930, showing fire and rescue equipment.