

A postcard view of the Scotch Plains Municipal Building.

A c. 1900 photograph of the house at the corner of Park Avenue and Front Street where the Village Green now stands. Originally owned by John Marsh, it was sold in 1911 to Henry C. Meyer. The building was razed to make way for the new Scotch Plains Municipal Building.