

The pond at John Marsh's estate in Scotch Plains. Careful inspection reveals two people on the opposite shore. The pond no longer exists.

The Marsh home after the blizzard of 1888. This is the side gate on Park Avenue.