

A Scotch Plains baseball team, c. 1900. The insignia "SP" on the uniform shirts denotes Scotch Plains. This was probably a semi-professional team from around the turn of the century, when baseball became popular in this country.

Local citizens gather at George Johnson's home.