

A sign of development in Scotch Plains off Park Avenue. The 1950s brought massive development to our towns. This sign attracted purchasers, especially veterans, to the growing community.

These newly-completed Cape Cod homes are of the standard bungalow design. They are still popular in Scotch Plains today.