TRADITIONS, CELEBRATIONS, AND RECREATION

Traditions—in the home, the schools, and the community—are the meat of history, enriching and linking generations. Parades, holiday festivities, Easter, and Halloween are a few of the annual markers that have given residents reason to cheer. Recreation lightens the challenges of life and gives families sources of bonding. Local parks are the playgrounds for young and old alike. And the camera has recorded many such moments of celebration in Fanwood.
