

A HISTORIC EVENT. Fanwood celebrates the national bicentennial in 1976 with a picturesque parade on Martine Avenue. This float honors the five New Jersey men who signed the Declaration of Independence.

FAME FOR FANWOOD. In celebrating the national bicentennial, Fanwood received national media attention for the unique idea of having its residents paint fire hydrants into caricatures of famous patriots of the Revolutionary War period.