SHOWTIME. An evening at a Philathalian performance meant a treat in theater pleasure. The group usually produced three plays a year. From 1966 until 1993, the Philathalian awarded a scholarship to a student planning to enter the arts. At one point, these scholarships were funded by members who volunteered at the recycling center.
