

THE RECYCLING CENTER. More than 20 groups work with the recycling center throughout the year. In addition to community groups, other volunteers pitch in with their time. The center recycles newspaper, junk mail, magazines, cardboard, glass, aluminum, tin, plastic, batteries, clothing, oil, and damaged American flags.

THE RECYCLING ASSOCIATION. In a sense, this is a club of clubs. Representatives from many organizations work with the borough, unloading and sorting materials in exchange for dollars for the groups' treasuries. This unique arrangement has succeeded for more than 20 years. Here, site manager Alan Ebersole directs Fanwood Junior Women's Club members and their spouses on their assignments on a Saturday morning.
