

THE FANWOOD CIDER MILL.

Fanwood residents could watch their apples being pressed into cider at this local mill, owned by the Phillips family and located adjacent to School Four at 291 La Grande Avenue. Nothing was wasted; the leftover pulp was fed to pigs at area farms.

FANWOOD'S TAILOR. This panel truck made pickups and deliveries to the area's well-dressed. This was just one of the many small South Avenue businesses that served residents in the 1930s.