Within a few days after the first issue of The SCOTCH PLAINSMAN was placed in the mails, we began to receive letters from servicemen commenting on the paper. Your letters made the editors feel as happy as you must feel when you receive news from home.

Edward W. Krempa wrote that he really enjoyed the first edition and asked us to say hello to all of his friends. His new address is Pvt. Edw. W. Krempa (32566281), Sec. C-4, Ordn. CAAF, Columbus, Miss.

Richy Enz wrote: "Tell us about the boys. We are always happy to hear how they are."

That's what we aim to do Richy, but unless you fellows send us news about yourselves, we're sunk. Why don't you start the ball a-rolling and tell us about yourself.

Pfc. John K. Garman (32769746) is stationed at Base Ordnance, A.A.B., Alamogordo, New Mexico, busy loading planes. He is sure "the fellows will like to receive the paper".

Pvt. P. Triana (42000987) MP Co. Norfolk Army Base, Norfolk, Va. asks for more sport news. There's a famine in local sport news Pete, because most of our athletes are in service. We'll give you all we can.

Lieut. Jim Lott, Navy Test Pilot, writes: "Naturally I'm quite pleased about my job, as every pilot wants to fly a variety of planes and especially desires to fly fast ones. The paper is a fine idea".

Cpl. David R. Decker (31155154) 320th Bomb Sqn. Box L-8, Carlsbad, New Mex., writes: "I notice my name on the "Honor Roll of Scotch Plains" I came to the army on August 2, 1942 from Fair Haven, Vermont, and I am listed on that town's Honor Roll. I should not be carried on two honor rolls but I do hope you will continue to send future issues of The Scotch Plainsman." You bet we will Dave!

Pvt. John Bangma Smith (32566352) 2123rd Base Unit, Sec. C, HAAF, Harlingen, Texas, writes that his job is to check, install and repair turrets and guns on the famous B24 Liberators.

REQUESTS HONOR ROLL OMISSIONS AND ADDRESS CHANGES BE REPORTED.

The task of keeping our servicemen's mailing list up-to-date is a difficult one and can be accomplished only if families and friends of service men help us. Even with the addition of many more names in this issue, our Honor Roll is still incomplete.

Anyone knowing of a Scotch Plains serviceman's name which has been omitted, should notify The Scotch Plainsman, P.O. Box 473, Scotch Plains, giving name and home address as well as the service address and serial number.

Messages have been received giving the serviceman's name only, with no home address or other identifying data by which the name could be verified or the family traced. Keep us posted on service address changes so that The Scotch Plainsman will reach our boys and girls promptly wherever they may be.

Thomas Ferruci has graduated from Mechanics School at Amarillo, Texas, and is now home on furlough.

Pvt. Dick Brown has just finished a ten day furlough at home, his first in ten months of service.

Capt. A.D. Hollingsworth Jr. and wife have returned to Camp Mackall N.C. after a 15 day leave spent with relatives. Capt. Hollingsworth is property and supply officer in Ordnance.

Clarence O. Burr Jr. of Lambert Mill Road, is in the U.S. Naval Training School at Lauderdale Beach, Fla.

Mrs. W. H. Bell of Maple Hill Farms, received a telegram from the War Department advising that her son T/Sgt. Donald Van Deusen is a prisoner in Germany. Sgt. Van Deusen, stationed in Italy with a bombardier squadron, was reported missing in action on April 25th. Before his capture, he had completed 32 bombing missions. He was last home on leave in October 1943, just before going overseas.

Pvt. William E. Seal, of Mountain Ave., who entered service in June 1943, went overseas last November. He saw action at Anzio, and at present is at a military hospital in Naples undergoing treatment for malaria. In a recent letter he wrote he was surprised by a visit from Dr. W. J. Frankel, former S.P. dentist.

Two other Scotch Plainsmen who are in far-off places are Ed. Sharkey and Henry Baraldi Jr. They met on an island in the Pacific and claim they spent all of their spare time talking about Scotch Plains.

Flight Officer William J. Hicks of Emerson Lane, spent a short leave at home and is now awaiting orders at Savannah, Ga. He received his wings in January and completed 14 hours flying time at Avon Park, Fla. Bill is now co-pilot on a Flying Fortress.

Pvt. James Higginbotham, who went through the African Campaign and also saw action in Italy, is reported in England, convalescing from repeated attacks of malaria.
