Scotch Plains Fund Drive Exceeds Goal

Scotch Plains continued its tradition of breaking records by "going over the top" in the Community and National War Fund drive in history-making fashion. With five out of seven zones exceeding their quotas, the objective of $7225 has been topped by almost one thousand dollars, contributions to date totalling $8170.

Rivalry between the zones was keen and top honors went to Zone 6 for being the first to report exceeding quota followed within five minutes by Zone 5 which exceeded its quota by the largest percentage. In third position came Zone 3, which earned further distinction by bettering its quota by the largest dollar margin.

The drive starts November 20th and ends December 10th. Buying bonds will be a fine way to display that spirit of unity, that determination to win the war quickly, about which we've all been talking since the election. It will also be a fine way to fight inflation and to store up purchasing power for the time after victory when savings will mean security and jobs.
