

SCOTCH PLAINS

stay. They had built homes; they were rearing their families; and now were beginning to realize their need for spiritual and cultural advancement; influenced, no doubt, by the "Great Revival" of 1740.