

Culmen

GEORGE ALBERT, the boy behind the drums, is enrolled in the general course. During his high school career, he has played in the band and the orchestra and has made a name for himself in varsity basketball. After high school he would like to be a bandleader. However, if that job is not forthcoming, he wants to be a building contractor with his father.

"Air-minded" GENE CARLL has made a flying start toward attaining popularity and has magnificently overcome the resistance of a native bashfulness. Taking over the part of Business Manager of the yearbook at a late date, she helped significantly to make the Culmen a financial success. Kind-hearted, neat, and extremely pleasant, we can't conceive of her as a typical "school-marm", but she wants to be a teacher, and we think she'll make a fine one.
