

JEAN BROWN

Chorus, Business Manager of Fancotian, Service Club, Junior Play, Culmen.

A play? A poem? A story?—Chances are it's Jean, whose favorite subject, needless to say, is English. She wants to work a while before attending college; after that, well, it seems to be a toss-up between social service work and journalism. She's a talker, but let me warn you before you get started—she hates people with foregone conclusions!

MAURO BRUNO

Mauro is the proud owner of a cute little black "jalopy" in which he rides all over creation—and then some! He is known for various snappy remarks which he makes in 12-1 homeroom. He has a great many interests of varied nature, but his favorite pastime is cooking (now here's a man for you, gals!). He also likes to ice-skate and roller-skate. Plans for the future are either radio announcing or something exciting like motor-boat racing.

ALICE CARRONA

Commercial Club, Girls A.A.

A rather quiet, but indispensable little gal! "Allie" has a good sense of humor and her sparkling laugh is always popping up when you least expect it! Dancing and sports are a few of her outside interests. Allie expects to be a secretary or typist after the "big day."

ALBERT CARTWRIGHT

Football, Baseball, Junior Play, Chorus, Spanish Club.

That unforgettable smile and good humor have always made "Al" the life of the party! His wisecracks have added many a laugh to an otherwise dull class. Remembered for his swell acting in the Junior Play, "Al" wants to be a farmer and has already begun studying.
