

Mixed Chorus

This fine group of young singers has been in the spot-light in a good many programs this year. They sang at the P. T. A.'s annual Back-To-School Night and at the Audio-Visual Education exhibition. We were never more thrilled than we were the first time we heard the Mixed Chorus sing our "Alma Mater." The thrill still is not gone because every time we sing the song we hear in our own imagination the rich four part harmony of the tune. Every year, since the Mixed Chorus was founded some years ago by Miss Swetland, they have taken part in an inspiring Christmas program and in the Easter assembly. Naturally, they have a large part in the "Choral Festival," which is presented annually in the spring.
