

SENIORS

JAMES ANTHONY NARDI

Boys' Chorus.

A tall, dark-haired senior with a FASCINATING smile—that's Jim. "Trailer" (or is it Trail her?) likes gals and he sure trails em. Other things that capture his interest are motorcycles and sports. He plans to become mechanic, but whether that means trade school or not remains to be seen.

BENJAMIN PAUL NOVELLO

Varsity Club; Spanish Club; Football; Basketball; Track.

This good looking fellow is known to his friends as Benny. A snazzy dresser, Ben is a great one for "slips," and his "authentic" southern accent sends the gals. He is a Florida enthusiast, so he plans to attend the University of Miami after graduation. Lots of little ol' luck to you-all.

NICHOLAS CHARLES NOVELLO

Spanish Club.

Nick, one of our most unusual seniors, is interested primarily in music. Aside from playing the sweet potato and harmonica, he likes the piano to the extent that he plans to be a concert pianist. Nick collects stamps, and he likes Bing Crosby and his art class. See you in Carnegie Hall, Nick!

MADELINE CATHERINE ORNATO

Library Council; Chorus; Culmen.

Madeline impresses strangers as being rather quiet, but we know she has a lively sense of humor. She loves to talk, read, and "mess around in the kitchen." When the mood strikes her, Madeline likes to create new hair-do's for her friends. Beauty culture is her chosen field and our classmate may be famous hair stylist someday.
