

DEDICATION

Every class needs an advisor who is both teacher and friend to all – a person who will share in the fun, but can also command the respect of his students. By these standards we chose Mr. Richard Keller as our man of the year. Though time may erase from our memories the many intricate details of events from the Civil War, the New Deal, and on down to the present, we shall not soon forget the guidance, friendship, leadership, and understanding bestowed upon us by the man to whom we, the Class of '52, dedicate our yearbook – MR. RICHARD KELLER.
