

DEDICATION

Friendship, understanding, leadership, guidance, all these qualities and more are immediately associated with the man whom we have placed at the top of our list. As a newcomer to Scotch Plains High this year, he soon became a friend to each and every student, ready to share in fun or lend a helping hand whenever it was needed. He has aided us in solving many a problem and has assisted in making our last and most important year of high school the best ever. Thus it is with the greatest pleasure that we, the Class of '53, dedicate our year-book to Mr. Charles Armerding.
