

THE SENIOR PLAY

It will be a long time before we forget Archie's British accent, or Mrs. Malone's seance. We'll often look behind us to see if Mat is following us with a brief case or if Lady Hortense is about to strangle someone. We remember all these happenings and many more from our wonderful senior play, SIGHT UNSEEN. Rehearsals were trying but the tremendous direction of Miss Higgins pulled us through to opening night when we burst forth with a production that kept the audience spellbound and laughing from beginning to end.

Ghosts stalking about, an Englishman performing an exorcism, Lady Judith falling in love with Henry, the American, just proved that once again our class had done something "different" and "original", even in our play.
