

FOREWORD

To put down all the things that have meant much to us during the past years is impossible. But, we hope that this yearbook will keep fresh in our minds the memories so worth remembering; worth remembering because forgetting them would be like forgetting our youth.

