

DAVID DICKEY

Track; Basketball.

"Dave" is the perfect example of an angel with horns. Little do the teachers know that "Dave's" hearty laugh isn't connected with school work. If it was up to him, he'd be perfectly satisfied with a rich blond "babe" to make life easy. It looks like "Dave's" future isn't going to be easy though First college, then the Air Force, and after that, Civil Engineering.

ERNEST DI FRANCESCO

Football; Jr. Band; Senior Chorus.

"Let's have a Ray Ernie! Ray Di Fran! Hep! Hep!" You guessed it! Ernie, that good looking guy with the dark wavy hair and loads of muscle, is one of the football players of the class of '55. His subtle remarks have caused giggles in many a class. After obtaining his diploma, Ernie plans to work with his father in the plumbing business.

JOSEPH JOHN DI QUOLLO, JR.

Student Council; Junior Band.

Hunting and fishing in his spare time! "Joe, we need help, the car won't start!" Who else could this describe but the avid sportsman and outdoorsman, Joe? Don't try to find him any Saturday during hunting and fishing season, because he'll be away someplace with his gun or fishing pole. With this great liking for the outdoors, how can he help but be a success in his chosen future—the service and then a mechanic. Loads of luck, Joe.

ROBERT DOMBROWSKI

"Ski's" the right guy to spark up a conversation or to carry out some unusual deed. One of the first to "get" a joke and the last to stop laughing about it; that's Bob. "Bob" will put life into whatever he undertakes after graduation.
