

JOSEPH GIACALONE

Did you find it yet, "Joe"? Always smiling and known to S. P. for his laugh is "Joe." One of our happiest seniors he has only one complaint, "there's no swimming pool in the school." Otherwise he hasn't a worry in the world. The future may find "Joe" as a building contractor.

CAROL JEAN GILBERT

Art Club; Culmen; Make-up Committee.

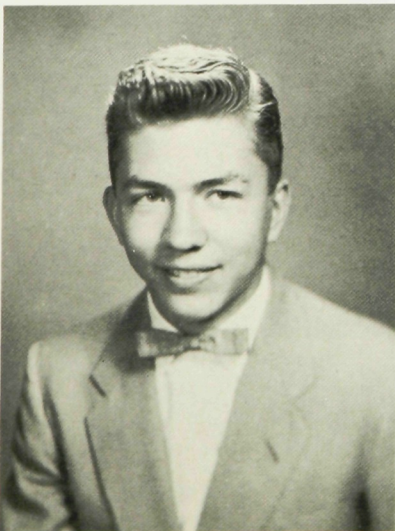

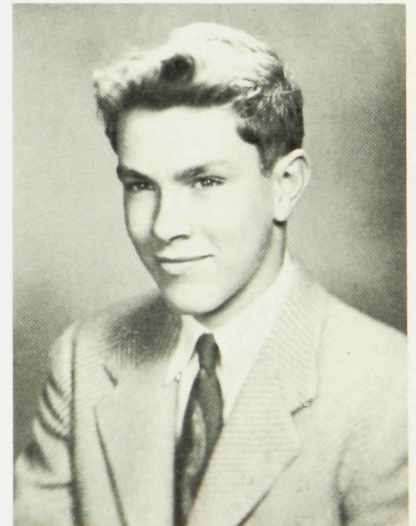

The tall dark girl with a paintbrush poised in hand is our Carol. She's another senior girl who loves art, and is really good, as can be seen in her beautiful work. It seems that most of Carol's interests run toward art as can be seen in her ambition for the future. She wants to be a beautician and we're sure she'll make out well.

"What! Are you kidding me?"

BRUCE MARSHALL GORDON

Science Club.

Bruce is the good looking blond, curly-haired boy who is often found in the Chemistry laboratory pondering out an explosion equation with a gleam in his eye. He is really interested in science and it's fun pretending what just might happen. Bruce isn't serious very often and when he is it's usually to get himself out a "jam."

WILLIAM FREDERICK HAHM

Senior Student Council; Library Council; National Senior Honor Society Publicity; Orchestra; Band; Culmen; All-State Orchestra.

Who's the boy spouting the large vocabulary? Why, Bill of course! He knows what he's talking about too, even if most of us don't. After graduation some college will find a hard-working "Bill" studying Chemical Engineering.

"Horse-feathers!"
