

ETHEL MAE HARRIS

Senior Chorus.

Has anyone ever been lost? Here's an expert on the subject. She can really sympathize with you. Although generally quiet, Ethel can liven up any conversation. One of our friendliest seniors, she likes to sing, as can be seen by her active participation in chorus ever since she arrived in S. P. H. S. Ethel's plans for the future are indefinite but we're sure she'll succeed in what ever she chooses to do.

"You could have fooled me"

RICHARD ANDREW HARRIS

Where is that delightful aroma coming from? Umm, does that smell heavenly! Over there by the stove is one of the few boys that love to cook. Who could it be but "Dick," one of the quietest members of the class of '55? Likely cooking might well prove to be an asset in his future—which will be missionary work.

MARGARET ANNA CAROLINA HEGI

Orchestra.

Who's that quiet girl with the black curly hair coming down the hall? It could be our friendly, happy "Margie." It is very clear that she has a great liking for people which will help her Secretarial School.

WILLIE MAE HENDERSON

G. A. A.; Senior Chorus.

"Will," is the girl with the smile for everyone. One of Mrs. Perry's best students, "Will" can really make a sewing machine sing. She makes many of her own clothes and if they are any example of the work she will do when she becomes a seamstress, we're sure she'll be a great success.
