

EDWARD CARL LINDE

"It's not how lavishly you live that is important, but how happily"

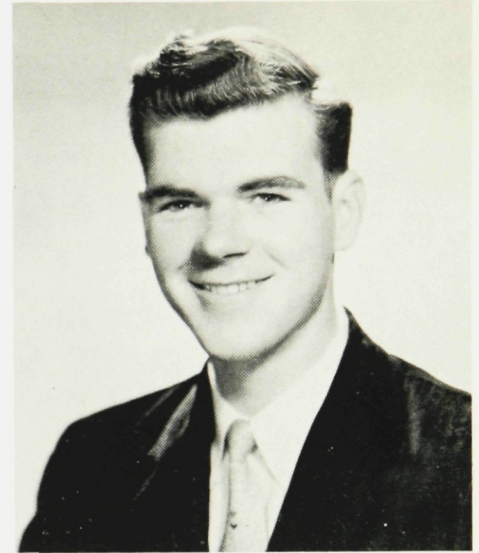

Many classes in S.P.H.S. have been enlivened by "Ed's" carefree good humor! A ready smile for every occasion makes him well liked by his classmates. The future is hazy, but we know it will be happy and profitable one.

LORINDA CURTIS MacRAE

"Animation and pep beyond compare"

"Linda's" vivaciousness and energy have made her our class "go-getter." The field of merchandising will welcome "Linda," for she is a hard and capable worker. This fact is demonstrated by the many school activities which have done so well as a result of her efforts.

DOUGLAS LINZER

"Life is too short to be idle"

"Doug" is a cheerful, neighborly senior whose chief interests lie in the mechanical and dairy farming fields. As a part-time gas station attendant, he has learned much in this department of mechanics. Should "Doug" ultimately choose dairy farming we don't know whether this knowledge will outsmart the cows or not.

JOYCE LILLIAN MALANGA

"A friendly smile to all she gave"

After graduation Joyce wants to become an airline stewardess. If looks and personality help, Joyce will be way up in the clouds.
