The '56-'57 edition of the basketball Raiders was the last to play in the small, friendly confines of our present gym. Next year's cagers will move on to the spacious quarters of the new school's gym. Coached by Chuck Dettmar, Scotch Plains started slow but came on strongly for a successful season. The Raiders lacked experience but by January they had developed into a well-balanced, high-spirited team. The end of the season brought sincere hope that future years will see Scotch Plains enjoying victory and success in its new high school.
