"Girls, don't forget basketball after school today." This announcement, with a variation only in the sport mentioned, brings out hundreds of girls to participate in the extra-curricular activity program organized by the Girls' Athletic Council. This group under the direction of Miss Birkins and Mrs. Resnick, plans and manages the whole girls' athletic program, including soccer, archery, field hockey, bowling, swimming, modern dance, basketball, volleyball, softball, lacrosse, and courses in officiating. The members of the club plan games with other schools and hold a refreshment period after the game for both teams. To finance these activities, the G.A.C. holds the Sock Hop, which is probably the most popular dance of the year.
