

LEFT TO RIGHT: Lois Kenyon, B.S.; Tressa Perry, B.S.; Olga Dutzer, B.S.

HOME ECONOMICS

Mrs. Tressa Perry

Can you make a dress, prepare and serve meals, and cope with your family? The answer is "yes" if you have had courses in this department. Today, home economics goes beyond these basic skills. In Clothing, a girl is introduced to the care and selection of garments along with their construction. Foods teaches nutrition, the proper use of equipment, and meal preparation. A girl is shown in Hostess class how to serve food for that after the game party in an efficient, pleasing, and original manner. The two major subjects offered by this department, Homemaking and Family Living, help girls to define their goals and better understand the problems of home and family. These subjects are a vital influence in modern living.

"The problems of a young married couple . . ."

"Another yard of material would be helpful."

"Who forgot to turn on the stove?"

