

AUDIO-VISUAL AIDS

FRANCIS MALESKY

Our Audio-Visual Aids Department provides the more enjoyable phase of our learning materials. Films, film strips, recordings, and all their equipment are available for use in every classroom. The projection squad aids the teacher as well as the A.V. Department by delivering and operating the equipment. As students who have seen many films on the life of the tsetse fly or World War I, and have recorded their own voices, we can surely realize the value of such a department in our school.

"This is a recorded message. . ."

STUDY HALL

"Z-z-z-z" "Pssst" "I don't want to have to speak again!" These are the usual sounds emanating from our study halls. During these periods one may catch up on everything from lost sleep to unanswered letters and sometimes even a little studying. Tired students look forward to their study halls as a welcome rest in a rigorous schedule.

peace in oblivion

OFFICE STAFF

Surely, every student in S.P.F.H.S. has gone to the main office for help at some time. Here we can see our efficient office staff at work. Among their many duties are taking letters, talking with parents, and handling calls and correspondence. An efficient administrative staff like ours is the back-bone of a well-run school.

LEFT TO RIGHT: Mrs. McClosky, Mrs. Lostbourne, Mrs. Ream, Mrs. Macaulay, Miss Miller.