SPANISH NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

If you happened to walk by the language department one December afternoon and saw an object hanging from the wall and an unidentified person attempting to hit it blind folded, that was the Don Quizote chapter of the nation wide organization of the Spanish National Honor Society celebrating a Mexican Christmas with a piñata. The members chosen by their personal achievement learn about Spanish customs through guest speakers and learn conversational mixed Spanish and a lot of hand signals when trying to talk to each other. It is an excellent addition to the Spanish department, and in future years more and more Spanish students will relax and learn Spanish, as well as facts about peoples of the Spanish lands. Adios.
