SOCCER

"Head it! Head it!"

A person hearing this odd call might wonder what is going on. If, however, he is acquainted with soccer he would realize that this move is just one of those necessary, skillful maneuvers that every soccer player must master. Soccer requires great stamina on the player's part so that he will be able to endure all the pushing shoving, running, passing, dribbling, tackling, heading and "misdirected" kicking, and still come back for more.

Our soccer team had some hard games this year but, after all their games were over, showed that the most important aspect about sports is not "whether you win or lose, but how you play the game that counts." Coach Formichella worked long and hard to build a team we can be proud of, and we know that he will continue this good work.
