

"See, it says right here in my notes, 'The Chinese Reds are having more fun than a little bit.'"

"Although algebra is a very important subject, this is history class!"

SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT

Mr. Armerding

In preparing for the future some of the most valuable subjects we learn are from the Social Studies Department. Here we are instructed on the problems of the world and their influences on our everyday lives.

In U.S. History I and II, lessons concerning our nation's growth and development are explored. World Cultures gives a broader view of the roots of civilization, to help the student appreciate the contributions of others. The new nations of the world are studied thoroughly in International Relations.

With such expert guidance, and fine courses of studies, how can the graduates from S.P.F.H.S. not help but be better equipped for the modern world?

"Hey! How did South America get to the North Pole?"

"Whew, can he talk!"
