

In CHEM Study class, Mr. Tilley explains to his students a graph of the potential energy of an activation complex.

Biology II students explore the anatomy of a cat.

A sophomore investigates the microscopic world of the paramecium.

