

Oversize paper people line the cafeteria walls. The Christmas Dance comes off after last minute flourishes. Juniors find success in songwriting, jokemaking. Others practice on-stage schizophrenia in a new type of production — serious drama.

The gym becomes a new kind of place — mats are unrolled, apparatus is scattered, balls are bounced, and slowly one realizes the Raiders are all right. The matmen rate high in the conference, the hoopmen bounce their way through a winning season, and the pins fly as the alleymen set new records.

And before one can stop to take count, the seeds planted when the leaves fell evolve into unforgettable experiences.

"Hey! You want to make this your permanent job?"
Debbie DeSena, Katie Osborne, Bob Holdsworth.

For those of you who don't attend—these are your study hall teachers. Mrs. Boruchowitz, Mrs. Rudd, Mr. Newman, Mrs. Fann.

CULMEN's friendly experience. Anne O'Connell, Jim Jolly.