

*"Of course, its impossible."
Tom Sweet.*

PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND HEALTH

Don Squires does his own ping.

Body building.

ATTENDANCE MEETS RISING NEEDS

Due to the revitalizing of Senior-level health, attendance increased greatly during this Senior year. Dealing mainly with the communication of important matters between the sexes, the manner of instruction came through class discussions, film strips, and records.

Sophomore-level health taught Red Cross First Aid and Civil Defense.

The Physical Education department also underwent a significant change this year due to an expansion of the facilities. The new facilities included a gymnasium, an exercise room, a dance room, and also a wrestling room.

This past year the upperclassmen participated in an independent study course which afforded them the opportunity to pursue their own interests. The sophomore students participated in a basic program which gave them an introduction to the different sports offered at SPFHS.