

Art students go to pot. Marc Fleischman, Keith Guillaume.

VIRGINIA PASTERNAK

ELINOR YOUNG

PERSONAL EXPRESSION STIMULATED BY ART DEPARTMENT

The purpose of an art course is to teach the student to express himself in the many different media of arts and crafts. Under the direction of Miss Young, students in Art 1, Art 2, and Advanced Art, experimented with such materials as pencil, charcoal, water color, and acrylic and oil paints. The results were colorful and artistic portraits, still lifes, and form studies, as well as an understanding of art techniques and abilities for the artist himself.

The craft classes, under the direction of Miss Pasternak, enabled the student to work with a greater variety of materials. Projects done with clay, metal, wire, enamel, papier mâché, and mosaics, representing the creations and abilities of interested students, were often on display in the school during the year.

Steve Deck thinks Alice Cole is a real "cut-up."