

raymond schnitzer

paul broady

sabbott orrico

administration

... aspiring ... "providing an environment which is inspirational to the students and the teacher"
... making high school a transitional stage to the adult world ... progressive programs cultivated ... presently open lunch, ultimately open campus? ... developing the total person ... flexible scheduling and a variety of subject offerings ... "for high school students to deal with blocks of time effectively ... the most important concept is commitment to oneself: self-motivation"
... an outstanding faculty establishing the basis for the professional staff here at s.p.f.h.s." ... to develop a unified student body without distinctive class divisions ... student council working through and with the administration ... students learning to deal with new responsibilities ... administration guiding students and responding to their needs. ...