

art department

... "making people begin to really see ... developing the facility to choose and select visual as well as non-visual information". . . .

... versatile and expanding ... aiding the language of artistic expression ... striving to motivate the students ... building foundations for a unique, personal, and individualized learning experience ... a new year ... new materials ... specialized courses: portraiture, lettering, photography, stage arts, graphics, jewelry making ... nine-week classes complete with curiosity and creative expression ... small gains contributing to a large accomplishment during the school year '71-'72 ... self-revelation. . . .

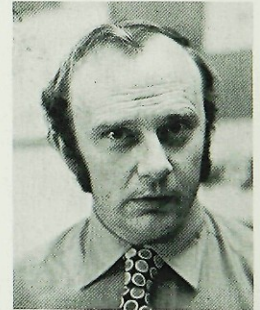

elinor young

virginia malpas

"rosemary, you can't make pottery out of thin air." lea scully, rosemary lyng.

paul robeson

"somehow, that's not the real me."
jackie byrd, berthia jones.