

Administration

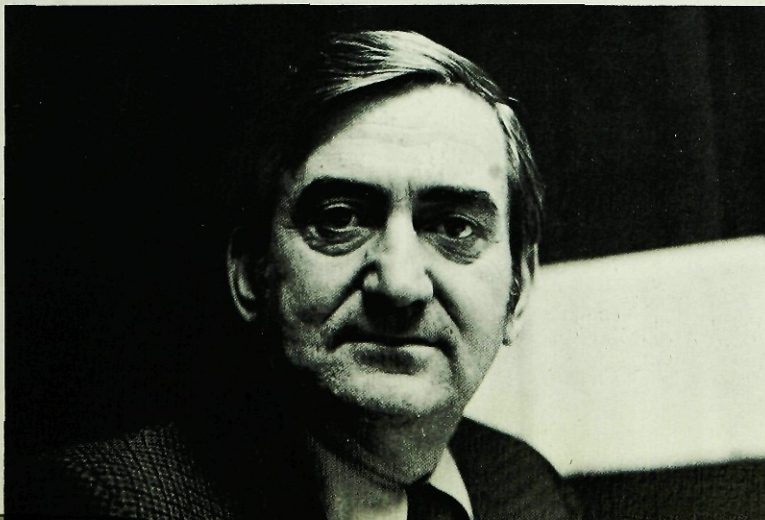

. . . the year beginning with the challenge of a new principal and vice-principal . . . striving to make the high school experience rewarding . . . fostering innovative programs . . . allowing time for the advancement of personal interests . . . receiving student ideas . . . encouraging self motivation and discipline . . . emphasizing student individualism, yet promoting unity through cooperation . . . opening avenues of exchange with students . . . shaping the individual and developing his resources . . . working to provide the best education and preparation for the adult world. . . .

Raymond Schnitzer — Vice-Principal

Paul Broady — Vice-Principal

Sabbott Orrico —
Vice-Principal