

James Tuttle, Sharon Valiant, Lorraine Ayers, Grace Macaulay

Media Center

. . . "foremost objective of media center . . . library staff and CIT working as a team" . . . encouraging the use of films, records, and slides . . . constructing a new graphics lab for the creative student . . . making transparencies and film strips . . . reorganizing the floor plan . . . providing closer security for the library . . . planning the creation of a movie studio . . . preview rooms . . . carrels especially designed for film viewing . . . innovations in learning . . . infinite sources of information . . . projecting images far beyond the printed words . . . bringing out imagination . . . providing knowledge . . . fusing the two . . . molding a fresh approach to learning. . . .