

Raymond Schnitzer – Vice-Principal

Administration

Open lunch, open end day and the energy crisis; three new developments this year, brought changes to the school schedule. Good relations enabled the student council to work closely with the administration in securing the freedom for students to utilize certain periods of unassigned time by leaving school grounds or coming in late. To contend with the energy crisis, vacation schedules were altered but remained within the state requirement of 180 school days.

Communication and involvement are the stimulants of progress. It is the hope of the Administration that the cooperation and involvement of the student body and faculty will continue to stimulate the advancement of the educational and social environment of S.P.F.H.S.
