

English Department

This year, the English Department is exploring new methods of teaching and is designing a new curriculum. The department utilizes team teaching in Levels three and four classes.

Curriculum changes mainly affect Seniors. Under the new program Seniors elect two mini-courses during the second semester. This replaces the traditional full year of English IV. Poetry, modern novels, writing compositions, Shakespeare's tragedies, and science fiction novels are all examples of the first step in making an all elective English III, as well as, English IV program.

In constant expansion, the English Department has adopted new techniques in teaching — stimulating the imagination and creativity of the students.

"Alright class, Atten-hut!" Susan Gruen.

First Row: Michael Orfe, Sherry Schlosser, Susan Gruen, Maureen Basta. Second Row: Francis Quinn, Janis Koscinski, Carol Sheppard, Pamela Perka, Margaret Best, Norma Heyman.