

George Esposito busy with business.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

The Business Department staff agrees that not only had the number of students enrolled in the business courses increased, this year, but also that students' enthusiasm and seriousness to achieve had also grown. More business students who thought their formal education would end following high school have decided to improve their skills further by going to two-year colleges.

Although the cut in the budget prevented the Business Department from acquiring additional business machines, DECA and CO-OP were still offered as a means of providing the student an experience in competitions during and after school.

"It's amazing what typing students can do to the English language." Frances DeSalvo.

"Dear Ma, Life is hard." Jean Poquette.