If you see a person with too much paperwork and not enough time to do it in, it is probably one of the guidance counselors. The guidance department is constantly working hard to please the students. These seven people are responsible for scheduling and assisting the 1500 students of SPFHS in personal and academic growth. In addition, a yearly financial workshop is conducted for parents and seniors. Conferences with students and parents are held in the junior year. The guidance office is a place where students can go to seek help in determining their future plans.
