Organization and cooperation were necessary elements in the functioning of the Administration of S.P.F.H.S. this year. Numerous problems, programs, and changes presented obstacles to the smooth operation of our school. School maintenance, a difficult job at best, grew more difficult with the increase of vandalism in recent years. Enforcement of regulations and policies also became less facile as students exhibited a stronger desire for independence. The administration is dealing with these changes through a concerted effort and increased communication with the students and faculty.
